MUSIC FOR FINAL BALL SERIOUSLY CONSIDERED

Many Details Settled for Most Elaborate Social Function of the Year

Under the able leadership of Cadet Capt. Heniers, assisted by Cadets Messmore, Powell, McClung, and Newborn, preparations have gotten under way for the Final Ball of nineteen hundred and thirty-two. This annual occurrence is one of our big social functions and had the corps looked far and wide they, we are certain, could not have made a better selection of officers than the above named.

Due to the fact that music is three-fourths of a dance, we consider ourselves very fortunate indeed in receiving offers from orchestras that are not only locally famous but nationally so. Kay Kaiser, the HOUDINI'S PROTEGE PAYS VISIT TO A. M. A.

Escape From Trunk Completely Mystifies Cadets

One rainy night a few weeks ago, we were greatly entertained by one of Houdini's henchmen, namely, the great Torjo. This widely educated slight-of-hand who speaks seven languages and was born in Austria, succeeded in baffling completely all of the corps.

The stage of the Gym was set and the show began under the thunderous applause of the highly elated cadets. Torjo flashed some fast disappearing acts the first crack out

Program For Finals Announced

After many endless days and months we see looming on the horizon some forty odd days distance, the much waited for finals. Finals with its superb parades, its glittering dances, and its painful partings has come to be considered the most enjoyable, yet sad, of all the care-free days we have ever spent here.

Of its activities many paragraphs could be easily written. Outstanding of these is the Baccalaureate sermon preached in the Old Stone Church by Dr. Keiffer, an excellent speaker who has always been well received on former occasions when he graces us with a visit. Dr. Lacy, a well known man to all of us, will also speak at the final Y. M. C. A. meeting. These two eminent men will no doubt have a great part in making Finals a splendid success because of their great abilities.

PLANTING AND GRADING IMPROVES UNSIGHTLY SPOT

We are greatly indebted to Colonel Roller for having very efficiently decorated the western side of the Academic Hall by covering up the coal pile with rich mountain soil and much attractive shrubbery. It is a real fine improvement to the grounds as that triangular field had always proven a sore spot to spectators. Although the Assistant Commandant made frequent raids on the dark soil with a shovel and pail the progress of beautifying that spot was not hindered and now we all have something more of pride to show to visitors when they ask us to show them around the grounds.

P. M. S. and T PLEASED WITH INSPECTION

Inclement Weather Does Not Interfere With The Program

At last, after hard drilling in preparation for the greatest military event of the year, the Government Inspection is over. It was with a great sign of relief that we finished our last problems and marched back to barracks with this great event behind us. Here follows a short resume of the Inspection as viewed by our P. M. S. and T. instructors.

A board of army officers, composed of Major Herbert E. Marshburn and Major Leland S. Hobbs, was detailed by the War Department to inspect the military schools of this district for the "honor school rating." Upon arriving here

Promotions Reward for Work Since October

In order to have a more efficient group of officers to lead us through the storms of a Government Inspection, an order was published revising the entire cadet personnel. In October, when the permanent makeovers were announced, headquarters was at a loss as to whether those men appointed would prove themselves efficient enough to help us retain the honor school ranking. Thus, throughout the entire year a careful check was made on all men

TRACKMEN DEFEATED BY GREENBRIAR

Opening Meet Ends in Loss by Close Score of 62 2-3 to 55 1-3

Augusta opened her track season of '32 by a meet with Greenbrier, losing by the close score of 62 2-3 to 55 1-3. The meet was held at Lewisburg, amid a drizzling rain, which accounts for the slow time in many of the events. Coiner, Graves and Thomas starred on the Augusta team.

Following is a summary of events:

BARRACKS MEN OVERCOME C. W.'s IN SEASON'S FIRST CLASH

Barracks men—throw out your chests, lift high your heads, the moment has arrived when you are at liberty to boast and cheer for the poorly organized but fighting pick-up barracks team which was able to accept the hairy challenge of the Quartermaster Company baseball team, and more, decisively and easily rout them and tender them a very disastrous defeat a few days ago. With practically no training or any chance of practising they were able to accept the seemingly invincible C. W. team challenge with all the breaks against them, and crash through to an easy victory. The C. W.'s were not as they had professed to be—in fact all spectators were surprised with the poor showing they made. The barracks men out-played them in every major and minor play of the game—in fact their superiority was pronounced from the very first pitched ball until the final out. It was all in fun, but hereafter may the C. W.'s be less cocksure of themselves in trying to assume Napoleonic ideas of beating everyone. When Company baseball starts soon, it will undoubtedly prove worse since the barracks men haven't yet even started to show a little real baseball. When they do, it will be sad, yes, ever so sad for any of the C. W.'s

AUGUSTA NINE VANQUISH JOHN MARSHALL

10-4 Victory Ninth Win of the Season

On Thursday afternoon Augusta met and defeated the varsity of John Marshall High School from Richmond. The 10-4 victory made the count nine games won and one lost so far this season excluding a few minor engagements.

The game was close until the sixth inning, the score reading 4-3 in favor of Augusta at the beginning of that frame. However, in the afore mentioned inning the home team circled the batting order once and the bases six times, three hits and five errors accounting for the tallies. A triple by Whitmore scored Gillespie and Klutz in that inning. In the fifth, Sutton was robbed of a homer, when Taylor (Continued on Page Three)

A. M. A. Takes Four First Places From Opponents

The brilliant efforts of Bill Raymaley, "Shorty" Graves and "Kat" Coiner, who turned in a total of four first places, would not overcome the strength V. M. I. brought to Fort Defiance.

A. M. A. took two of the seven running events, and two of the field tests. Coiner captured the broad jump by covering a distance of twenty feet, eight inches. Bougeois came second with the distance of 20 feet and seven inches. Graves lived up to his reputation by winning both the low and high hurdles.

BLUE TEAM TRAMPLES WOODBERRY 8-5

VICTORY APPARENT FROM OPENING INNING

The Baseball team evened in part the old score against Woodbury on Saturday, winning a decisive victory over our well-known rivals. Be it known that the score, 8 to 5, tells only partially the excellent playing of Augusta's team.

Jimmy Davila started the game for the home team and fanned the first two that faced him. Rattled by an error, made by the irre-

FISHBURNE WINS FIRST OF GAMES 14-7

With chilling winds typical of early March, spectators in Waynesboro, Wednesday witnessed A. M. A.'s second defeat of the season. Fishburne won by 14-7 in a unique day of sevens in which Augusta rapped out on a triple of sevens, seven runs, seven hits, and seven errors.

F. M. S. seemed to be good but not unbeatable and there is another chance. Wednesday's victory may pave the way for a Fishburne defeat which will overcome her rival.

sensed his fly to deep center. Gillespie aided by air tight fielding faced only three men in the second, third, sixth, eighth and ninth innings. Two double plays thrilled the spectators, the playing featuring Sutton, Klutz and Price. The visitors threatened only in the fourth, but were successfully repulsed. Hoggard carried off the batting honors, averaging 1000% excluding one beautiful sacrifice bunt.

EASTER DANCES ARE DECLARED SUCCESSFUL

As predicted, the Easter dances were the most enjoyable of the year so far. They certainly seemed to have accomplished one thing that few A. M. A. dances have done proachable Sutton, however, he issued free passes to the following three batters allowing one run. An out from Klutz to Price retired the side and ended the threat. Augusta retaliated in the end of the first with four runs, due to walk by Clark, singles by Klutz and Whitmore and Sutton's clean-up triple. The latter scored on Price's single. Woodbury scored three more runs in the fourth frame. Parott, the visiting hurler, questioned Davila's ability, by a circuit clout, with two team-mates occupying the bags. Davila was relieved in favor of "Lefty" De Poy and the frame ended without further damage. The opponents scored once again in the ninth, in lieu of Augusta's two in the eighth. In each of the four innings from the fourth to the ninth, three men only faced "Lefty." Cather Carly Jones received credit for De Poy's nine strike-outs.

Batting honors for the afternoon went to Whitmore, credited with two singles and a double; he was closely followed by Sutton, hitting a triple, and a double. A combination, composed of Burdette, Klutz and Price, earned the plaudits of the crowd by a snappy double play in the second inning.

It would be unfair, indeed, not to mention the superb fielding of Mason, center fielder for W. F. S. He earned eight put-outs while he covered all three fields.

WHY GOVERNMENT INSPECTION

Having just passed through several weeks of intensive military activity and topped that off with two days of formal inspection during which the average cadet moved with extraordinary alacrity and military punctiliousness although inwardly his feelings were in a state somewhat akin to frenzy, he has, in all probability, asked himself on more than one occasion; Why Government Inspection, anyway? The answer, while probably not at all a pleasant parallel, can be illustrated best by answering the general question: Why any examination?

An examination is simply the application of the knowledge gained in any course of study. It is the means whereby the student verifies to himself and to his Instructor his work in any given study. If we had no examination at the end of the course, it would be a great temptation to the student to forget all about the subject after each recitation, and the course of study would assume the form of a sort of mental sight-seeing bus. The student would simply gaze on each lesson very much as the passenger on the sight-seeing bus gazes on each new view, and, like the passenger on such a tour, retain very little.

He would miss entirely the application of the various laws of cause and effect underlying the subject with which he is endeavoring to become familiar. The various reasons and theories underlying his work would assume the form of an individual and unrelated reason or theory. This, while it might prove pleasant in contemplation to many cadets, would most assuredly not be learning. It could not be termed education. A boy so prepared would have to begin all over again before he could learn anything, and would find himself in a very unenviable intellectual position among his associates whether they be college or business men.

Just so the Government Inspection. It is merely the opportunity for the R. O. T. C. Unit to show to the Department what the personnel has learned, and serves the double purpose of showing the cadets and the Government the effectiveness of the instruction given in the unit. As such it should be welcomed by the cadets. The gentlemen conducting the inspection are quite human and not too critical. They merely wish to find out what you have learned during this course of tactical instruction, and, like the teachers who will soon conduct your final examinations here at school, endeavor to give credit where it is due. No fair-minded cadet objects to this, and all fair-minded cadets can see the reason, and hence the answer to the question: Why Government Inspection?

Sunday afternoon they commenced their program by inspecting barracks and later by reviewing Dress Parade. They were very favorably impressed with the showing made as both of these two were well nigh perfect. Starting out with this fine beginning the spirit of the inspection was carried forward into its later developments with much success.

Although the weather was at times a bit unfavorable everything went according to schedule, and the inspection was completed without any delay whatever. Even, so, the general condition of equipment and rifles was far better than in past years; the class room sections were above average; the out door sections, although considerably handicapped by rain, were very satisfactory; our battalion review was the best we have ever had; and in short the entire inspection showed that those eight months spent in perfecting our unit were not in vain.

To compliment any one man would probably be unjust, for the excellent showing made was due to the co-operation and the team work of each individual working for the success of the entire inspection as a whole. We can, however, state that the board of examiners was especially pleased with the extended order drill, field engineering, and the company problem of attack. Probably some things could have been better, but we should rather quote Major Warshburn's last words to the corps upon the completion of the combat problems: "Why criticize success?"

more and Jones slammed out two doubles each, and Skeeter Clarke got one double. This game was Augusta's second victory since her defeat by Duke, her only defeat of the season.

Whitmore's triple and Sutton's double were the outstanding hits of the day, and were the cause of most of Augusta's seven runs. Jones

Y. M. C. A.

Sunday, April the third, the "Y" had its weekly meeting. This program was featured by several students from V. S. D. B. They gave a few demonstrations of how they were able to communicate their thoughts to each other. This was followed by an exhibit of some of their handiwork. This program kept our interest up until the last moment.

On the following Sunday the program was sponsored by the C. W.'s. This meeting was in charge of Skeeter Clark who acted the part of master of ceremonies very well. The famous trio, Merdith Jones, Bab Moone and Blakemore gave a few vocal selections. This was so well received by the corps, that they were forced to sing a few encores. Cadet Knight gave us a few selections on the piano.

Bud Price was called on to give his imitation of Capt. but he was scared that he would be seriously reprimanded.

We are looking forward to the coming Y programs. The high light of the coming programs will be sponsored by "Jim Shorts" and his old time songs.

AUGUSTA OPENS BASEBALL SEASON WITH USUAL SUCCESS

Augusta opened her baseball season March 24, by a 15-5 victory over Middletown High School of Middletown, Pa. Jones, Whitmore and Sutton were the outstanding hitters for Augusta. DePoy was in the box for Augusta and pitched a wonderful game, allowing only two hits, walking two and striking out fourteen.

We, the corps of A. M. A., wish to express our belief to Capt. Hull and his team, that Augusta will have a championship team again this year.

RAMBLERS FURNISH MUSIC AT FASHION SHOW

Annual Affair at Mary Baldwin Held at Stonewall Jackson Club

After practising diligently for over two weeks the cadet orchestra directed by Harvey went to the Stonewall Jackson Club to help Mary Baldwin College successfully put over their annual Fashion Show. As usual they were well received and helped bring this great social event of the girl's college to a climatic end with their superb rendering of many modern dancing tunes. According to many reports this was the best showing that our orchestra has made so far and we all expect and are sure that they will be in fine shape to help make our finals a perfect success.

BLUE TEAM NOSES OUT HARGRAVE BY A COUNT OF 12-11

On April the fifteenth Augusta and Hargrave held a slugging contest in which Augusta came out on top by a lone run advantage. The game was featured by a large number of errors on both sides. Augusta held Hargrave to a 12-2 count in the start of the ninth inning but in that inning Hargrave slugged in nine runs and came within an ace of winning the game. This was Augusta's fifth game of the season and her fourth victory.

DEPOY HALTS GREEN- BRIAR, 18-3

DePoy again pitches a great game of ball for Augusta, allowing only four hits and winning by the score of 18-3. This was Augusta's second game and second victory of the season. Not a man on our team failed to get at least one hit, and possibly could have gotten more had

Not only has the committee advanced rapidly with the orchestra arrangements, but also it has selected some very attractive favors which we feel sure will meet with the approval of everyone connected. Beautiful shoulder corsages will be at the disposal of those girls going into the figure.

This year's ball has a promising outlook of being the best ever given at Augusta. As before, however, co-operation from the corps is the underlying secret for its success. Its up to you fellows of the corps, so lets put it over in a big way.

CADET NINE WINS HARD FOUGHT GAME FROM SHENANDOAH COLLEGE

On Saturday, April 16, Bud Price hurled his team to a 6-5 victory over Shenandoah College. This was Bud's first attempt at hurling and it was Class "A." The game was close throughout. Shenandoah made one run in the first inning and Augusta made the score 3-1 in the fourth. In the sixth, Bud weakened and Shenandoah College scored three runs. Hugh Sutton relieved him and with bases loaded struck out three Shenandoah College batters. When Augusta came to bat in the seventh she scored two runs due to a triple by Hoggard and a double by Whitmore. This left the score 5-4. In the eighth both teams scored one run.

the game not been called in the seventh inning. Jones, Sutton, and Whitmore each got a home run, Jones being the outstanding batter in the game.

DISHING THE DIRT

Again impatient readers I am before you, not however within reach. If this attempt at Winchelling happens by any chance to hit you in one of your tender spots, why please I beg of you do not seek me down and cause me unheard of pain, because I am only funnin.

On With the Prattle

Is it possible that we may some day hear of Bill McClung as the world's foremost roof inspector? Bill as you know was caught red-handed on the roof the other day and he has come forward with no suitable explanation to date. By a process of elimination we come to the conclusion that Bill was up to no good and apparently there are others who think so also judging by the amount of penalty given to him by none other than the Major.

A new occupation for A. M. A. graduates has presented itself with the arrival of Government Inspection. Namely, window washing. The boys in the fourth stoop tower will find no trouble in getting positions on the Empire State Building. Anyway we can now see the sun by day and the stars by night through our nice glistening windows.

In the recent track meet held here at school with the V. M. I. rats, three events, the 440, 880 and the mile, ended in three world records being broken all by V. M. I. men. Who said that these V. M. I. men do not stick together?

concerning their conduct, military efficiency, leadership and other such qualities which cadet officers should possess. In this manner the military department was able to republish, on April 8, a more sure list of officers. Many who had proven efficient during the entire year were either appointed to higher positions or reappointed while those who had been determined and not capable of their offices were reduced. On the whole every man appointment was as fair as could be expected under the circumstances and we ought not to have any trouble with our officers during the course of a very rigid Government Inspection.

DUKE UNIVERSITY

BEATS AUGUSTA 10-2

Duke won her fourth game of the season by defeating Augusta 10-2. This was Augusta's first defeat of the season. Two Augusta pitchers were unable to halt the slugging "Tar Heels" who drove DePoy from the box in the sixth inning. Francis Harris replaced him, pitched in his characteristic style and held his opponents to one hit and one base on balls. "Curly" Jones behind the bat for Augusta, played a fine game. "Curly's" two bagger in the first inning accounted for Augusta's two runs.

Augusta was scheduled to play the University of North Carolina on this trip South but the game was cancelled because of rain.

PROGRAM FOR FINALS

Of the military side of Finals we can not emphasize too much. Company competition drill will be of great interest to all of us, as we all try and prove to the rest of the Corps the superiority of our organizations. Sham battle will furnish us all the necessary thrills and sound effects to make our closing a howling one. In all, finals will be perfect, closing with its soft and mellow Auld Lang Syne which signifies the end of many close friendships which we will cherish in later years.

The proposed program for the 1932 Finals of the Augusta Military Academy is as follows:

SATURDAY, JUNE 4

9:00 A. M.—Firing of salute to guests.

10:00 A. M.—Setting up exercises followed by Guard mount.

12:00 A. M.—Monogram Club dance.

of box. These slight of hand tricks were the points of much amusement. "Red" Miller caught a few stray ducks trying to escape the magic wand of the tricky performer.

Several of his mysteries were left unsolved by our Sherlock, but ole Bud Mewborn sort of had things figured out from the side lines, being able to see all quite clearly.

The final test of the evening proved to be thoroughly mystifying. Imagine a man escaping from two Government mail sacks in which he was placed completely locked in chains and handcuffs! Well after C. K. Payne and Stag Powell put him in the strongest panelled trunk obtainable we thought it would be quite impossible, but he did it. Within ten minutes after his disappearance in the trunk we heard "Hey-Fellers" from way back in the Gym balcony, startling everybody. We just can't figure things out, but we hope Torjo will come back to visit us next year and give us another of his perfect entertainments.
